Vol. XIX.]

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 19, 1818.

[No. 5336.]

American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS OF General Washington is the condensed result of long experience, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design: of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at Yorktown, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and a proper character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be completed, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The ink shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials. The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splendid edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splendid Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A Legislator for his Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.

50 Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED on Saturday morning, the 15th inst. negro George, or George Griffin, the property of Miss M'Call, by trade a waiter, and understands some part of the blacksmith's business; he is about 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, stout made, very black complexion, large eyes and mouth, with thick lips. He is a very artful fellow and has been in the habit of obtaining himself as a free man, and will not doubt attempt to pass as such, and probably get work—as has a down look when spoken to.—His clothes not recollected, having various suits.

A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county, 20 in the county of Washington or Fairfax, or the above reward if taken 50 miles from town, with all reasonable charges if brought home. Masters of vessels are cautioned against harboring or carrying off said runaway, as they will be dealt with according to law. JAMES SANDERSON August 17 d

Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale a tract of 80 acres of land, on the Colchester road, five miles from Alexandria, adjoining the lands of Haywood Foote and Dennis Johnston. The greater part of this tract is fine meadow land, abundantly supplied with water. Also one other tract of 261 acres, on the Ravensworth road, about 6 miles from Alexandria, and one mile from the first mentioned tract, adjoining land of Thos. Janney and Mr. M'Pherson: the greater part of this tract is in wood, the soil good and highly susceptible of improvement from the use of plaster. If these lands are not sold before the first of January next, they will then be for rent. CHARLES SIMMS June 18 75

Exchange & Broker's Office.

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS. AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria; as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 12

Ten Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber about the 4th of August, Negro Woman LOUIZA—she is 25 years old, about 5 feet five inches high, and stout; has some of her front teeth out, and is apt to laugh when spoken to; she has a sister Marinda and a mother living in Georgetown, one above Semmes's tavern, and the other on Herring Hill, where she has been harbored for two weeks, and left there to come home, but has not done so. I expect she can be found in Georgetown or Alexandria, where she has many acquaintances. I will give the above reward if brought home, or lodged in jail so that I get her again. ROBERT HARPER. ACADEMY.

THE Subscriber most respectfully informs the inhabitants of Alexandria, that he will open an English, Mercantile, and Mathematical Academy at Mr. Ridd's, Prince-street, a few doors west of the Farmers' Bank, where youth shall be instructed with care and expedition in the following sciences, in order to qualify them for the different departments in trade and business, viz. In the Mercantile, Naval, and Military line.—Reading; writing; arithmetic; English grammar; book-keeping; geometry, both plane and solid; mensuration of surfaces and solids; trigonometry, both plane and spherical; surveying; gaging; navigation; dialing; use of the globes, maps, and geography; algebra; conic-sections; mechanics; gunnery; fortification; fluxions; astronomy; &c. &c. Applications to be made to Mr. Guy Atkinson, Mr. Wm. Dunlap, or at the academy, where the terms will be made known. The Academy will open on the 17th inst. Prof. Math. & Nat. Philosophy. *Arithmetic in so compendious a manner, (by lecture) that one figure does the office of ten in the common way; and of course, in one tenth the time the student can acquire a regular knowledge of this excellent art. In all its various parts, with general lectures on Domestic Factorage, and Company Accounts; Accounts of Exchange; Negotiation of bills; covering of cargoes, &c. with calculations, shewing at one view the state of the trader, merchant, factor, and grocer's affairs. These being more closely connected with business than any of the above, occasioned the subscriber to point them out to the public. He also invites the learned to visit the academy at their convenience, and judge for themselves. On the first of October he will open an Evening School, for the accommodation of those whose employments prevent from attending during the day. J. C. September 12

Baltimore Hospital.

24th August, 1818. THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.

The unwearied exertions of Doctors Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians of the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this Institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years, a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New-York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these Institutions, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive, the whole building being now 360 feet in length.

The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.

The visitors at their late meeting, examined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infirmary—those in the lunatic asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assert with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patients comfortable; the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and with every other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Gatchel, the Stewart and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.

Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chiapini, which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind ever exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearefully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information. The Hospital is under the care of the following gentlemen: Doctors Colin Mackenzie & Attending. James Smyth Physicians. Dr. Horatio Jones, Jameson, Allen & Surg. Doctors G. Broen John Coulter John Campbell White Solomon Birkhead Peter Cronwell Peter Chard John Alexander John Owen William Donaldson By order of the Board of Visitors, JOHN HILLEN, Sec'y. This ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Negro woman TREACE or TREACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Robert Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Diggs. Negro Treace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a scorpion put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender. THOMAS BURGESS. Charles co. French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents: HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS.—

With this view I have purchased the FARMER CHAZZ FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Narritown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pike-land and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniences for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination; nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 6th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to EMMOR KIMBER, 2d mo. 21 St

Ma, Editor,

Will you permit me to send you two further extracts from Byron's Manfred; the first possessing a species of blasted ruin of mind; the second, conveying the beauties of a highly gifted poetical one, with a sombre coloring, which is infinitely attractive.

The first, which follows, arises from a conversation between Manfred and a holy Abbot who attempted to exhort him to repentance.

Man. Ay—father! I have had those earthly visions.

And noble aspirations in my youth, To make my own the mind of other men, To enlighten nations; and to rise I knew not whether—it might be to fall; But fall, even as the mountain catars, Which have kept from its more dazzling light.

Even in the morning strength of its abyss, Which casts up misty columns that become Clouds rising from the re-ascending skies, Lies low but much exalted—But this is past, My thoughts mislead themselves.

Abbot. And why not live and act with other men?

Man. Because my nature was averse from life;

And ye not cruel; for I would not make, But find a desolation—like the wind, The red-hot breath of the most lone Simon, Which dwells but in the desert, and sweeps o'er

The barren sands which bear no shrubs to dust.

And revels o'er their wild and arid waves, And seeks not, so that it is not sought, But being met is deadly; such hath been The course of my existence; but there came

Things in my path which are no more.

The foregoing shews, too truly, a mind of desolation. Its contrast follows in a style of great beauty, being an address to the setting sun.

Man. The stars are forth, the moon above the tops

Of the snow-shining mountains—Beautiful!

I linger yet with Nature, for the night Hath been to me a more familiar face Than that of man; and in her starry shade Of dim and solitary loveliness.

I learn'd the language of another world, I do remember me, that in my youth, When I was wandering—upon such a night I stood within the Coliseum's wall, Amidst the chief relics of almighty Rome: The trees which grew along the broken arches

Waved dark in the blue midnight, and the stars Shone through the rents of ruin; and afar The watchdog bays beyond the Tiber; and

More near from out the Caesars' palace came The owl's long cry, and, interruptedly, Of distant sentinels the fitful song. Begun and died upon the gentle wind. Some cypresses beyond the time-worn breach

Appeared to skirt the horizon, yet they stood Within a bowshot—where the Caesars dwelt, And dwell the tuneless birds of night, amidst

A grove which springs through level'd battlements, And twines its roots with the imperial hearts.

Ivy usurps the laurel's place of growth;—But the gladiators' bloody Circus stands, A noble wreck in ruinous perfection! While Caesar's chambers, and the Augustan halls,

Grovel on earth in indistinct decay.—And thou didst shine, thou rolling moon, upon

All this, and cast a wide and tender light, Which softened down the hoar austerity Of rugged desolation, and filled up, As I were, anew, the gaps of centuries; Leaving that beautiful which still was so, And making that which was not, till the place

Became religion, and the heart ran o'er With silent worship of the great of old!

Here, to use the language of Shakespeare, is "the poet's eye in a fine phrensy rolling from earth to heaven—from heaven to earth, and as he bodes forth." &c.

The loftiness of the description of this scene, shews how much more grandeur of imagination can be expressed in blank verse, than when trammelled by metrical measure; particularly by the Spenserian, so much adopted by Lord Byron.

His lordship, while fine in his imagery, describes with much accuracy and tact; of which the writer of this had personal observation, as regards some of his striking descriptions in the third canto of Childe Harold, on the Rhine.

H.

The scene lies in the Alps.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

Man should pursue his own true happiness.

This is the first principle in ethics, and if happiness is preferable to misery, all must be desirous to pursue it. What a poor, deluded race of mortals we are.—None dispute the abstract proposition, none deliberately prefer the evil to the good, yet very few carry the maxim into practice. Is it because men are ignorant and do not understand in what their true happiness consists? "Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge?" To affirm this, would be a reflection upon eternal wisdom. Let every one examine his own heart, and enquire whether he always does what he believes to be right, and always shuns what he believes to be wrong—he will find the fault at his own door. "He hath not called upon God." We have not been sent into the world without sufficient light to perceive in what our happiness consists.—True, a long course of indulgence in vice, depraves the affections, distracts the imagination, and impairs the intellect; this is one of the most powerful reasons against such a course—in it, we render ourselves, daily, more liable to be cut off from all hope of happiness forever. Still, few sink to such a depth of depravity, as to lose every glimpse of the light of Heaven: man, while he lives, never becomes lost beyond the reach of Almighty power; there are promises from the lips of infinite love. Why, then, oh why do we not choose the good?

All attempts to scan the wisdom of Providence in the constitution of our nature, are vain presumption; the being that constituted the Universe, only, can comprehend. Let divines be cautious, how, in the pride of human wisdom, they apply the doctrine of "total depravity" and "original sin," lest they make man a mere machine, and God unjust.

There are certain principles in our nature, which may be attended to with profit. All will acknowledge that no vice ever paid half its cost: no sensualist ever found the pleasure of enjoyment equal to the punishment that followed, in some shape, of remorse, or shame, or stupidity, or depravity. For a moment's enjoyment, he imposes a curse upon his future years.

The principal causes of all continuance in vice, after its bitter consequences have been tasted, are habit and pride. The debauchee, the gambler, or the thief, cannot be found, who pursues his profession from mere choice. Habit is the tyrant that taxes the future for the present—pride is the evil demon that guards him. Destroy this demon, and the tyrant may be overcome.—Pride never exists, except in a mind conscious of something wrong. It makes us unwilling to confess the vices for which we shall experience reproach. We endeavor even to conceal them from ourselves.—Were it not for pride, repentance and reformation would necessarily be speedy—instead of which, under the shade of its dark auspices, we continue to practice, what we bitterly detest, and that for which we suffer the severest self-reproach. Pride prevents self-examination; pride prevents our asking the advice and assistance of our friends; pride prevents earnest and constant supplication at the footstool of mercy.

Poor deluded fellow mortals, pause and reflect a moment. There is a God in Heaven who sees and knows all. Do not think that you can conceal any thing from him. The only way to secure a virtuous life, is to cultivate the consciousness of his omnipresence; this is, "the fear of God," "the beginning of wisdom." Reflection is painful, but is not this pain the consequence of an evil course? Besides, it is less painful when resorted to as a matter of choice and duty, than when forced upon us by circumstances—in misfortune—upon a sick bed—at the grave of some near friend. Under such circumstances, you cannot avoid reflection, and it will be attended with aggravated remorse. In misfortune you will be assailed by the sneers of those whom you slighted when prosperous—upon your bed of sickness you will be deserted, because you did not secure good will by kind offices when in health—at the grave of your friend, the time will have gone by when you might have atoned for the injury you have done him, when you might have repaid his kindness, or profited by his good advice.

Reflection is painful, but will continue in an evil course make it less so? And whether is pain that produces reformation and happiness, or pleasure that brings sorrow and despair, preferable? Who could hesitate to choose; but for the tyranny of habit, and who would submit to such a tyranny, but for pride? "A man's pride shall bring him low, but honor shall uphold the humble in spirit." R.

Loss of the ship Gen. Armstrong.

The ship Gen. Armstrong, Capt. Hill, sailed from this port on Monday last, bound to Havana, in ballast. Next day, on the outer edge of the Gulf-stream, discovered the ship had sprung a leak, and on examination, found it originated from the opening of the garboard streak. Immediately all hands to the pumps, endeavoring to keep free, but without effect. Capt. Hill finding it impossible to proceed on his voyage, wore ship and stood in for the land, and anchored off Folly Island, a little to the northward of the light-house, on Thursday evening, where she remained until yesterday morning, both pumps going all the time; but the leak gaining on her, she filled, and at 12 o'clock went down in 4 fathoms water. The new pilot boat Enterprise went to her assistance on Thursday evening, and remained by her until she went down; a short time previous to which, she took off the passengers, officers, and crew, and brought them up to the city last evening. They also succeeded in saving the greater part of her sails, her boats, and some of her running rigging.

STEAM.

The most impressive and beautiful illustration of the steam power, when applied in that way, that we have ever seen, is in the mill of Major Isaac M'Kim, on Smith's wharf. The machinery is one of sixty horses power, and propels eight pair of burr stones, with so much ease and precision, that, in the midst of this amazing operation, one is struck with agreeable surprise at the silent smoothness and regularity with which every thing moves.

The measure of the wheat, without changing its position, casts it, at once, into a hopper placed upon the wharf; and no manual labor whatever is again applied throughout the whole process, until the flour is put into the barrel. The wheat is elevated by machinery to the roof of the house, where it is by the same means thoroughly cleaned and deposited in the hopper; it then re-ascends in the shape of flour, and being bolted, and its several qualities duly separated and cooled, is finally conducted to a room on the second floor, ready for the hand of the cooper. Such is the immense power of this mill, that she has, we have heard, turned off two hundred barrels of flour in twenty-four hours, using fuel at the rate of two and a half cents per bushel.—We are happy in every opportunity to bear testimony to the public spirit of our citizens; and this elegant establishment certainly does credit to Baltimore, and adds another proof of the forecast and enterprising character of its owner. May we not look for an entire revolution in the milling interests?

JOSEPH THOMPSON HARE.

The mail robber, who was hung in Baltimore, on Thursday last, was as notorious and successful a robber as has ever been brought to punishment in the United States.

For fourteen years past his life presents a connected series of extraordinary and successful robberies, committed in Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland, Massachusetts, New-York, and New-Jersey, and in Canada and the Spanish provinces, to the amount of about one hundred thousand dollars.

The first robbery in which he was concerned, was in New-Orleans, where he, in company with some others, robbed a sea captain of a watch worth 50 guineas—the second was also in New-Orleans, where they robbed a French officer of a large sum of money—the third and fourth were likewise in New-Orleans; one of which consisted of 250 dollars, which they took from a countryman, the other of a watch and 17 dollars—the fifth was in his wilderness between the Muscle Shoals and Choctaw nation, where Hare and two others robbed a company of four gentlemen of about 28,000 dollars, in gold—the sixth was in the Choctaw nation, where they robbed a gentleman from St. Augustine and one from Charleston, South Carolina, of 12 or 13,000 dollars in gold—the seventh was also in the Choctaw nation, where he himself robbed a traveller of 2,700 dollars in gold and a bag of silver, a watch, and a rifle—the eighth was between Pensacola and Baton Rouge, where they robbed a company of five travellers, of 40 weight of gold and some silver, amounting to upwards of 11,000 dollars—the ninth was also between Pensacola and Baton Rouge, where they robbed a gentleman of about 15,000 dollars, in gold—the tenth was near Nashville, Tennessee, where they robbed a traveller of 970 dollars—the eleventh was in Franklin County, Virginia, where he himself robbed a drover of 450 dollars and his horse, for which he was apprehended and sentenced to eight years confinement in the Penitentiary of Virginia, five of which he served, when he was liberated for his good conduct—the twelfth was between New-York and Boston, where they robbed two gentlemen from New-York of 14,700 dollars mostly in English guineas—in New-York, Hare stole a pair of carriage horses belonging to the Governor—in Washington city he attempted to sell a horse for a man who had stolen him, for which he was thrown into jail, where he lay for several months when he was released on condition that he would join the army—while in the army he meditated delivering President Madison to Adm. Cockburn, whose fleet was then in the Patuxent, which he would have done if he could have communicated his scheme to the Admiral: becoming dissatisfied, however, with the army, he hired a horse and gig in Georgetown; deserted, and sold them.—The thirteenth was in Chester county, Pa. where he entered a tavern room and robbed two Germans of 1000 dollars—the fourteenth was near Lancaster, Pennsylvania, where they robbed a drover, of the name of Scott, of eighteen hundred dollars—the 15th was at a tavern about 3 miles from Boston, where he robbed a man of four hundred dollars—the sixteenth was at Princeton, New-Jersey, where he robbed a merchant's trunk of thirty thousand dollars, for which he was tried at Somerville Court-house and sentenced to the state prison for five years; two of which he served, when he was again liberated for his good conduct—the seventeenth and last robbery in which he was concerned, was that of the United States' mail near Hagerstown, of nineteen thousand nine hundred dollars, for which he was hung, together with John Alexander; it was their intention to have robbed both the northern and southern mails, as both mails had to pass the spot on which the robbery was committed, within about an hour or two of the same time, but one of the company making way with the ropes intended to tie the driver and passengers, they permitted the mail to pass un molested.

Hare was a man of great strength and courage, and possessed more generosity than is generally met with among robbers; he always acted as principal in the robberies in which he was concerned. The following is the concluding paragraph of his confession, written by himself while in Baltimore jail—

"The circumstances of our trial, and our sentence, are already known to the citizens of Baltimore. Since then I have been confined in a dreary dungeon, heavily ironed, without hopes of any mercy here, but looking forward for a crown of everlasting glory in the world to come, through the intercession of my blessed Saviour. My offences have been great and many. For the last fourteen years of my life, I have been a highway robber, and have robbed on a large scale and been more successful than any robber either in Europe or in this country, that I have ever heard of; but I have the consolation of reflecting, that I never killed or wounded any man, and that no man's blood is upon my head. I have employed myself, in my confinement, in writing this confession, which, I solemnly declare to the world, and will repeat under the gallows, is a true and faithful history of my life and adventures, and I hope it may serve as a caution to other persons; how they follow the same course. May the God of Mercy pardon and aid receive my soul."

New-York, Sept. 14.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

By the arrival last Evening of the Hercules, Captain Cobb, and this morning of the Edward Byam, Captain Leander, both in 28 days from Liverpool, the Editors of the Commercial Advertiser have received London papers to the 13th of August, and Liverpool to the 14th both inclusive. Our Lloyd's Lists are only of the 4th and 7th.

The "Sun" of the 13th announces that the alarming symptoms of the Queen's long illness have disappeared, and there is reason to hope, that in a short time she will be fully re-instated in her accustomed health. The private reports of the Medical Attendants are said to be even more favorable than those which have recently been publicly announced.

The misguided workmen at Stockport, in consequence of the determined firmness of the Magistrates and the resolution of the Manufacturers to put the law rigidly in execution, have returned to their work, and tranquility, it is said, is entirely restored in that district. In Manchester, 12 or 14,000, at the latest advices, still remained refractory. Measures, however, were in operation, by which it was hoped that industry and comfort would soon be restored to the workman and their families.

A London paper, of the 13th of August, states that Edward Spence Curling, Esq. of the House of Messrs. Goodwin & Co. of Ramsgate, had been appointed Vice-Consul, at that place, for the United States of America, in the place of the late Mr. Nathaniel Austen.

A Liverpool paper of the 14th of August, says, that there is every reason to believe that the cause of the return of the Duke of Wellington to this country at present, is the total failure of all attempts to effect an amicable adjustment of the subsisting differences between Spain and Portugal; the latter being resolute in his refusal to relinquish possession of Monte Video. In this state of things, our Government feels itself in a very serious state of embarrassment.

M. Mongre, one of the greatest geometers of the age, died lately in Paris, aged 70 years. He was a distinguished Member of the French Institute, and one of the men of science who accompanied Bonaparte on his expedition to Egypt.

Letters from Madrid to the 16th of July, mention that a change in the war department was soon expected, and that an expedition of about 3000 troops were preparing to sail for Havana. The same letters announce, that King Charles the 4th is preparing to present to the approaching Congress at Aix la Chapelle, a claim to the throne of Spain; and that he has a strong party in his favor at Madrid.

Our papers give an account of a serious contest between the Students of the University at Göttingen and the inhabitants of the city. The military were called in to quell the riot; and five of the students were severely wounded. The remainder, nearly 800 in number, retired several miles distant to the Hessian town of Witzhausen. Ten days afterwards, they sent a memorial to the public authority of Göttingen requesting that the military might be withdrawn and they permitted to return to the University. The result is not yet known.

A Paris paper of the 9th of August, in noticing the unusual heat of the weather, thus remarks—"The excessive heats that we experience have given rise to several meteorological observations, sufficiently interesting. A remarkable circumstance in them is, that the heats are nearly equal throughout Europe, in all latitudes. At Rome, Berlin, Madrid, and Vienna, the thermometers of Reaumur have risen to the same degrees. Malice had spread the report that there reigned a species of plague or contagious malady in some hospitals of Paris. This report is positively false—we have no contagion to dread but that of dangerous doctrines, and Paris requires no lazaretto but a political one."

The Paris papers also mention, that eighty houses had lately been destroyed by fire, and 400 families reduced to misery, in the village of St. Sulpice, situated in the department of Cote d'Or.

On the 3d of August, Charles Hussey was executed for the murder of Mr. Bird and his house-keeper, at Greenwich. Before he was executed, he confessed that he aided in the robbery and deserved his fate, but declared that the murder was committed by two of his associates, while he kept watch in the street.

London, Aug. 13.

A strange report, to which we can attach but little credit, is put forth by one of our morning contemporaries, respecting an attack upon young Napoleon, said to be grounded on advices received yesterday, but of which advices we have heard nothing beyond this questionable mention. It is affirmed that an attempt has been made (within the Emperor of Austria's Palace, we suppose) to assassinate young Napoleon. Several ruffians we are told, broke into the chamber where the youth was in bed, and aimed a thrust with a poniard at his breast, but which only wounded him in the arm, and he succeeded in getting out of bed and raised an alarm. Three of the villains were secured; the rest made their escape. Such is the account we have given us. If true, we have no doubt that the Emperor of Austria will use every means to search to the bottom the atrocious attempt.

We insert in another column, the unusual statement respecting the health of the Queen, but we must notice another important rumor in circulation. It is said that her Majesty has undergone an operation, by which the water on her chest has been withdrawn. The attendance of Mr. Keat, the Surgeon, and the relief she has enjoyed, seemed to countenance this report; but it is attempted to be kept secret.

INFAMOUS TRANSACTION.

A few days ago, a widow lady, named Fotheringham, a native of America, came to town from the coast of Sussex, where she had been for some time residing with her three infant children, for the purpose of selling out stock to the amount of 800*l*. preparatory to a voyage to her native country. Having applied to the people of the house to recommend some professional man to transact her business, a genteel looking fellow was introduced, who stated that he was a solicitor of the Inner Temple. He appeared to be perfectly conversant in money transactions, and after some conversation Mrs. F. furnished him with the necessary documents, and with a written authority to sell out stock to the amount mentioned. A time was appointed for an interview when he was to pay over the money to her; but he has never since made his appearance, and the feelings of the unfortunate woman may easily be conceived, when upon inquiry she found that he had absconded with the whole of her property, having sold the stock on the day appointed. Harvest will be general in Scotland by the beginning of September. The crop will not only be extremely productive in respect of grain, but the quantity and quality of straw will more than make up the deficiency in hay. In every respect, the crop will be unusually fine; and there is no doubt that the prices of grain will fall considerably. Potatoes are both luxuriant and early, and cannot fail to be cheap unless the great demand for butchers' meat should make them be used largely in feeding cattle.—Glasgow Chronicle.

Hamburg, July 28.

An English ship returned from Greenland having met the Polar Expedition near Spitzbergen, in lat. 73 34, all the crew in good health. Capt. Czebue, who is doubtless at present at Chronstadt, could only reach 70, on the side of Behring's Straits, where he was impeded in his further progress by an icy barrier. He could neither double Cape Szetzkoi, in Asia, nor the joy Cape in America.

The last Russian Charts indicate, that from discoveries made upon the spot, New Siberia is not a continent, but a group of these large islands, which extend as far as the 77th degree, and on the other side of which is seen a sea of ice.

This circumstance seems to confirm the hypothesis that Greenland is only a large island, that the Bay called Baffin is open on the North side, and that there is no Continent under the Pole. According to the Russian charts, it also appears, that the coasts of Siberia had been placed a little too much to the Northward.

District of Columbia County of Alexandria, st.

ON the petition of JESSE DOWE, an insolvent debtor, confined in the jail of Alexandria county for debt—Notice is hereby given to the creditors of the said JESSE DOWE, that on the first Monday in October next, at the court house of said county, the oath prescribed by the act of Congress of the United States, entitled
"an act for the relief of insolvent debtors within the District of Columbia," will be administered to the said insolvent, and a trustee appointed, unless sufficient cause to the contrary be then and there shown.— Ordered, that this notice be advertised in both papers published in Alexandria, three times a week for two weeks before the said first Monday in October next.

Notice.
PURSUANT to a decree of the Honorable Court of Charles County as a Court of Equity, I shall expose to public sale, at Port-Tobacco, Charles county, Maryland, on Wednesday the 7th day of October next,
all the real estate of which General John Mitchell died seized, lying in Dumfries parish in said county, consisting of two tracts of land adjoining each other, called Holly-spring Reserve and Meek's Park, containing about 750 acres. This estate is situated contiguous to that of Colonel John Taylor's, near Maryland Point, and within two miles of the river Potomac, is considered one of the most healthy in that neighborhood, lies level, and the soil (a part of which is already strong), is thought to be susceptible of speedy improvement by the use of clover and plaster of paris. On this estate is a very considerable body of wood and timber, which if converted into money would probably pay the purchase money.

The improvements are a two story dwelling with two rooms and a cellar under the whole, kitchen, Negro quarters, barn, and corn house, and an orchard of some of the choicest fruits. A more particular description of it is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed that those inclined to purchase will view the premises previous to the day of sale. It will be sold either entire or in parcels for the accommodation of purchasers.—The purchaser or purchasers will be required to enter into bond, with approved security for the payment of the purchase money in one, two and three years, with interest, payable annually from the day of sale; and on the ra-tification of the sale by the Court, and the payment of the purchase money, and not before, a deed or deeds in due form will be made, conveying all the estate, right, title, interest and claim, to the premises that the said John Mitchell, deceased, held in the same, which title is indisputable.

50 Dollars Reward.

A BSCONDED on Saturday morning, the 15th inst. negro George, or George Griffin, the property of Miss M'Call, by trade a nailer, and understands some part of the blacksmith's business; he is about 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, stout made, very black complexion, large eyes and mouth, with thick lips. He is a very artful fellow and has been in the habit of obtruding himself as a free man, and will no doubt attempt to pass as such, and probably get work—has a down look when spoken to—his clothes not recollected, having various suits.

A reward of 10 dollars will be given if taken in the town or county, 20 in the county of Washington or Fairfax, or the above reward if taken 50 miles from town, with all reasonable charges if brought home. Masters of vessels are cautioned against harboring or carrying off said runaway, as they will be dealt with according to law. JAMES SANDERSON. d1

Land for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale a tract of 80 acres of land, on the Colchester road, five miles from Alexandria, adjoining the lands of Haywood Poole and Dennis Johnston. The greater part of this tract is a fine meadow land, abundantly supplied with water. Also one other tract of 251 acres, on the Ravensworth road, about 6 miles from Alexandria, and one mile from the first mentioned tract, adjoining land of Thos. Janney and Mr. M'Pherson; the greater part of this tract is in wood, the soil good and highly susceptible of improvement from the use of plaster. If these lands are not sold before the first of January next, they will then be for rent.

CHARLES SIMMS. June 13

American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union; the danger of indulging too much in party feelings; the necessity of supporting public credit at home;—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations; of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments;—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to hear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BEIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at Yorktown, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character; designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be completed, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Ames. The ink shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials. The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN; and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splendid edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splendid Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.

PROPOSALS, By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker, TO PUBLISH A Splendid Edition of Washington's Farewell Address. To the People of the United States.

THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Statesmen—of men who have guided armies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only ONE WASHINGTON, but ONE MAN, whose dangers in war, and labors in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benefit of his country; whose wonderful and honorable success, was the plain result of wisdom in design, and valor in execution; whom danger never appalled, nor defeat depressed; who, persevering in the justice of his cause, wooed Victory till he won her; who coveted no reward but the well earned approbation of those whose interest he lived to promote; who renounced all public honors, when they ceased to be the necessary instruments of good to the people, whose gratitude conferred them; who superior to all Monarchs, was content to be called the

BILL IN CHANCERY.
Robert Perry versus James B. Dunnington, Robert Dunnington, Francis Taylor and Elizabeth B. his wife, James Bloxham and Catherine his wife, William Simmons and Kether his wife, heirs of William Dunnington.

THE Complainant alleged in his bill that the Respondents have in possession the real estate of their deceased father Wm. Dunnington, whose personal estate was not sufficient for the payment of his debts. Wm. Dunnington's estate is indebted to the complainant in a large sum of money. The object of the bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the land, for the payment of the debts remaining unpaid by the personal estate. Some of the heirs of Wm. Dunnington are non-residents. It is therefore, at motion of the Complainant, ordered that he cause a copy of this order to be inserted in the Alexandria Gazette for the space of three months, to the intent that the absent defendants may have notice of this application, and of the subject and object of the bill, and may be warned to appear in this court in person or by a solicitor, to shew cause, if any there be, wherefore a decree should not pass as prayed. Teste, JOHN BARNES, Clk. June 27 Sm

Charles County Court, March Term, 1818.

ON application to Charles county court by petition in writing of John Smith, of Charles county, for the benefit of the act of assembly for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned therein, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the court being satisfied by competent testimony that the said John Smith has resided two years immediately preceding the time of his application, in the state of Maryland, and being also satisfied that the said John Smith is in actual confinement for debt, and the said John Smith having entered into bond with sufficient security for his personal appearance in Charles county court, to answer such allegations as his creditors may make against him—It is therefore ordered and adjudged that the said John Smith be discharged from imprisonment; and that by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some one of the newspapers edited in the District of Columbia, once a week for two months successively before the third Monday of August next, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said Court, at Charlestown, in said county, on the said third Monday of August next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to shew cause why the said John Smith should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws as prayed. Given under my hand this 20th day of June 1818. Teste, JOHN BARNES, Clk.

Gauston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 18 miles below Alexandria—It is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia. Valuable Estate for Sale.

UNDER the authority of a decree from the Equity Court of Prince George's county, the subscriber will on Wednesday the 23d day of September next, offer at public sale, at the house of Isidore Hardy, in Piscataway, a most valuable property, the Estate of George R. Leiper, Esq. deceased, so well known by the name of MONTPELIER—about 2 miles from Piscataway, 9 miles from Alexandria, and 16 from Washington city. This farm, which contains rather more than 600 acres, is truly valuable. The soil is fertile and highly susceptible of improvement by the use of clover and plaster. The buildings are good and commodious, and the site of the Mansion, in beauty of perspective and salubrity of air, is excelled by few on Potomac river. To be enabled to appreciate fully the elegance of the situation and all the advantages which result to the possessor of this valuable estate, it is only necessary that it should be viewed, which may be done, and every necessary information obtained, by application to the subscriber, or Mr. Aquila Baden, the present manager of the farm. The terms of sale are that the purchaser shall pay one-third in ready money, and the residue in two equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale, to be secured by bond with approved security, and on the ratification of the sale by the court, and the payment of the whole purchase money with the interest thereon due, and not before, the trustee will execute to the purchaser a deed in the terms of the decree. The purchaser on complying with the terms of sale, will have the liberty of seeding a crop of winter grain. THOMAS MUNDELL, Trustee. Oakland, near Piscataway, cpi23S August 11

Public Sale.

The subscriber will offer at public sale, on the same day and place above mentioned, 125 acres of land (lying nearly square) adjoining the above farm. It has been enclosed five years, without being cultivated; has 8 or 10 acres well set in timothy, and upwards of 30 in good timber and wood of different kinds. The improvements are a logged quarter and good barn. A part of the land has been well cow-penned for the five years. Terms will be made known on the day of sale. HENRY D. HATTON, Near Piscataway, thstut23dS August 20

Ship Timber, &c.

THE subscriber, residing on Matta-woman Creek, in Charles County, Maryland, will dispose of (standing) a large quantity of first rate White Oak Ship Timber, Wharf Logs, Timber suited for Staves, Plank, Scantling, or other purposes, in any quantity; likewise several thousand cords Oak Wood. Purchasers will find it to their advantage to view as the terms will be moderate, and there is navigable water to the spot. WM. MASON.

Land for Sale.

I WILL sell from 150 to 300 acres of land, part of the farm on which I live.—On said land there is a log house, with two rooms on a floor, a meat house, with several other small buildings, an excellent apple orchard, peaches, pears, quinces, damsons, &c. DANIEL DULANY. August 24

Lexington for Sale.

THIS estate, containing two thousand three hundred and fifty acres, more or less, being one half of the well known tract of land commonly called "Mason's Neck," situated on the Potomac, in the county of Fairfax, Virginia, is now offered for sale. About two-thirds of it is covered with an uncommon heavy growth of white and bl'k oak, hickory, pine, poplar, &c. near the water's edge, whence it may be transported to the markets of the district of Columbia, (a distance of 20 miles only) where timber and fuel are always in demand, and without the expense and risk encountered in conveying these articles from situations further down the river: the remainder is in cultivation, and furnished with every necessary building for that purpose; together with orchards and a blacksmith's shop. The lot or improvements are a spacious and elegant dwelling-house, kitchen, ice-house, a well of excellent water, and a falling garden, of the most tasteful and costly design, filled with the rarest and most beautiful shrubberies and flowers, exotic and indigenous, all situated on an eminence, commanding a view of the rest of the tract, which extends in an unintercepted plain from the foot of the eminence to the Potomac and Occoquan, by which it is so far bounded as to render the expense of enclosing it comparatively nothing. The prospect, moreover, of the surrounding country, diversified in every direction by sheets of water, is really beautiful beyond description. There are likewise attached to this estate four valuable.

Shad & Herring Fisheries.

however, the subscriber intends to reserve one of them and a few acres of land. The woods abound with deer in such numbers, that with a little care a gentleman might command a constant supply of venison for his table; and besides the large streams above mentioned, the various creeks and inlets that every where intersect the land are covered in the proper season with wild fowl of every description known in our waters. When to all these advantages is added the great natural fertility of the land, which is so far bounded as to render the expense of enclosing it comparatively nothing.
